Hopes	Concerns
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We will all be together at the end • Our decision will express our values • These buildings will stay together • We are flexible and open to new options • We will continue to be brave enough to do this • We end up with a beautiful, safe, inviting building for ourselves and that will attract new people • Make full use of the building • Fulfill our mission • Allows us to serve the community seven days a week • We will see it through to the end • We can help the homeless • There is extreme creativity • We will think beyond St. Luke's to the broader church • God is glorified through what we do • God will guide/tell us what to do • The Holy Spirit will be a part of this process • Space offers equal access to all • We will put an equal amount of energy into what we are called to be 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The economy; tough times – where will the money come from • We become splintered • Loss of our glorious building • Donors forgotten or neglected • End up with a building-driven mission • Further deterioration before decisions can be made • That the bathrooms will still be scary! • The future of the organ • A solution that speaks to all populations – young, old, the disabled • We will do what we are used to and are comfortable with • Planning will be uncanonical • Nothing will change • Parking issues won't be addressed • Decision will be fear-driven rather than hope-driven • We will talk, talk, talk and take no action
